

Hypothesis: Earlier bedtimes are associated with longer sleep and higher sleep quality; at the same sleep duration, earlier bedtimes correspond to higher morning mood.

